COOL AIR FROM CANADA DRIVES MERCURY DOWN

Forecasters Say Return To Seasonal Temperatures Due Saturday

The backbone of the six-day-long heat wave appeared to be bent, but not broke, today as moderately cool air from Canada and thundershower activity dropped the mercury back to reasonably comfortable stages.

Where the cooler air had not yet penetrated, particularly from East Liverpool southward, temperatures were expected to hit around 90 degrees this afternoon.

By tomorrow, however, forecasters said there would be a general return to seasonal temperatures, probably ranging in the middle 80's in the north and the upper 80's in the south.

A northeast breeze off Lake Erie was bringing a marked relief to lake points. A high of 83 degrees was forecast for Cleveland today, compared with 92 yesterday.

THE HIGHEST reading yesterday was 93 degrees at Perry and Toledo while showers and cloud-shading kept the mercury in the 80's in many places.

Minor storms and electrical disturbances struck at several points last night, causing some damage.

Electric power was shut off in Berea for several hours and strong winds blew down a number of trees in the area. A heavy downpour hit Elyria, flooding basements, and some parts of the city were without electric service for a half hour or more.

The rainfall ranged from a trace at Cleveland to .88 of an inch at Hayesville. Although spotty, the precipitation served to relieve a near-drought condition in many farm areas where the boiling sun and 90-degree temperatures were endangering crops.

JACKSON, Tenn., Aug. 8 — A bronze and granite monument stood today at the Jackson, Tenn., grave of Casey Jones, replacing the simple wooden cross that has marked the storied railroad's resting place since he died in the cab of the Cannonball Limited 47 years ago.

Sim T. Webb, the aging Illinois Central Negro fireman who leaped to safety from the limited's engine on Casey's orders, unveiled the monument.

The old Negro shared memories at the dedication of the huge monument with Mrs. John Luther Jones, the widow of the famous engineer who vowed to "run her till she leaves the rail, or make it on time with the southbound mail."

PRODUCTION AT STAND STILL AS UNIONS BATTLE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 8 — Production remained at a standstill today at the Superior Industries, Inc., of Youngstown, as rival unions engaged in a jurisdictional dispute.

The CIO-United Steelworkers set up a picket line at the plant yesterday, keeping out most of the firm's 54 employees.

Steelworkers' union officials said they had signed a majority of the workers, but this was countered by an independent company union which also was being formed at the plant.

ATTLEE BACKED DESPITE BLAST BY CHURCHILL

Conservatives Lose 251-148 In Move For Rejection Of Austerity Proposals

LONDON, Aug. 8 — Prime Minister Attlee's rigorous program of "recovery through sacrifice" scaled another hurdle in the house of commons today despite charges it is leading Britain into totalitarianism.

A conservative amendment calling for rejection of Attlee's new "austerity" proposals was defeated, 251 to 148, after Winston Churchill had denounced the measures as "a blank check for a totalitarian government."

Churchill, who emerged from political inactivity to take the conservative leadership in the fight against the bill's enactment, told the house of commons:

"LIFE IN Britain under socialism is far worse than the full blast of the war."

Churchill, who had abstained from parliamentary activity since a recent operation, moved rejection of the bill giving the government powers unprecedented in peacetime to cut imports and reorganize manpower.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 8 — A suspected bandit already facing seven armed robbery indictments was charged with first degree murder today by the widow of a slain grocer.

CORN CONTINUES SETTING NEW CEILING MARKS

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 — Corn soared to another new all-time high of $2.29-3/4 per bushel on the Chicago board of trade today.

The record price was paid for the September future.

It was the second time during the day that the record had been smashed. Earlier, the price reached $2.27 and gained steadily to reach the new mark, 5 cents above the previous high.

Wheat and oats followed the trend set by corn.

The upsurge was attributed to the heat wave and forecasts for continued dry weather in the corn belt.

DEPUTY ACCUSED IN JAIL BREAK

Recaptured Lifer Declares Official Provided Saws To Assure Freedom

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8 — Mathew Senich, 35, Mahoning county jail escapee who was facing a life sentence for being a habitual criminal, was captured today in an east side Cleveland home.

A cordon of 11 detectives surrounded the place and Senich submitted without resistance.

According to the detectives, the convict immediately implicated an unidentified Mahoning county deputy sheriff as providing the hacksaw blades with which Senich and two other convicts sawed their way to freedom July 24.

The other escapees, Arthur McCann, 20, of Youngstown, and Joseph Giordana, 32, still are at large.

Senich and Giordana were tried in Columbiana county common pleas court in Lisbon and were found guilty of being habitual criminals. They escaped the day before they were to have been sentenced to life terms.

Detectives said Senich told them that he paid the deputy sheriff for the hacksaw blades. He refused to name the sheriff or divulge the price he allegedly paid for the blades.

TRUMAN RAPS AT LIFTING OF CREDIT CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 — President Truman today lashed out at congress for failing to continue consumer installment credit controls beyond Nov. 1, and called on merchants to use "self-restraint" in extending credits after the curbs are lifted.

The President signed legislation extending the credit regulations until Nov. 1, but he made it clear that he believed the measure to be inadequate.

Mr. Truman said: "It is unfortunate that the congress did not provide for restraints on over-expansion of installment credit in order to diminish inflationary pressures from this source."

"Not only during the next three months while the controls remain in full force and effect, but for an indefinite period thereafter, it will be in the public interest for every merchant and financial agency extending installment credit to avoid undue relaxation of terms."

"It will be far better to reduce prices rather than to relax terms in seeking new customers."

City Commission Vote Petitions Filed Too Late, Prosecutor Rules

County Prosecutor Kenneth M. Robbins ruled invalid Friday the petitions filed Wednesday afternoon with the Pickaway county board of elections for a referendum on the Nov. 4 election on the questioning of inauguration of the commission-manager form of government in Circleville.

An oral opinion was given to the elections board Friday morning and Prosecutor Robbins said he would submit his ruling in writing later in the day.

The county prosecutor declared that the Ohio attorney general already has ruled that petitions of this type cannot be properly filed with an elections board within less than 90 days preceding a regular municipal election and that the commission-manager petitions were, therefore, filed too late.

He also asserted that even if they had been filed more than 90 days before the November election they would still be invalid because the 24 petitions, on mimeographed sheets and bearing 378 signatures, carry no affidavit form and do not disclose the identity of the circulators.

AS LEGAL adviser to the board of elections Prosecutor Robbins instructed the board to retain the petitions but to take no action to place the issue on the Nov. 4 ballots.

The deadline for the filing of nominating petitions with the board of elections was 6:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Prosecutor Robbins said his written ruling to the elections board would contain the numbers of the Ohio general code sections on which his legal opinion was predicated.

Seven Members Closeted In Effort To Arrive At Compromise Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 8 — The United Nations security council is marking time on the Greek crisis today while seven of its eleven members confer behind closed doors in a determined effort to draft an acceptable compromise plan.

The delegates of the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Colombia and Australia have until Monday evening to rest divergent viewpoints on the border conflict between Greece and Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria and decide whether an immediate solution is possible.

Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko has indicated he will turn down any security council measure indicting Greece's three northern neighbors.

The seven delegates, if unable to turn in an unanimous report, will turn the issue back to the security council Tuesday. An Australian and Colombian resolution calling for firm action then will be debated for a deciding vote.

Before adjourning yesterday, the council again tackled the Indonesian question and for the first time in its career, turned down the request of a U. N. member to be heard.

Blackmail Charges Of Hughes To Be Probed By Attorney General

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 — Sen. Brewster (R) Me., said today Attorney General Clark plans to investigate charges by Howard Hughes that the senator offered to call off the senate inquiry into Hughes' aircraft contracts if the millionaire plane builder would merge his airline with Pan American Airways.

Brewster, who invited a justice department inquiry two weeks ago, said Clark had informed him the charges would receive "attention" as soon as the senate inquiry into Hughes' war plane contracts ends.

The Maine senator is head of the committee probing the 40

million dollars in contracts obtained by Hughes.

BREWSTER repeatedly had denied the charge, but Hughes called the senator's sworn denial a "pack of lies" and declared he could "tear it to pieces" if given cross-examination privileges at the senate hearing.

In announcing Clark's promise to investigate, Brewster told reporters that he was satisfied with the decision to eliminate his personal feud with Hughes from the war contract investigation.

But he added that he does not feel that the decision strips him of the right to go into the matter on a personal basis.

PLANE MAKER ORDERED TO AIR PRIVATE BOOKS

Tempers Flare As Meyer Disappears Once More—Return Demanded

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 — The Howard Hughes war contract hearing reached a stormy climax today when Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., issued a new subpoena for Hughes' press agent, John Meyer, and ordered another subpoena to force the millionaire aviator to produce his private records.

Ferguson, florid with anger, issued the Meyer subpoena after Hughes defiantly refused to bring his free-spending publicity man to the afternoon session.

Tempers, near the bursting point all week, flared spectacularly as Meyer's "disappearance" threw the senate investigation of Hughes' 40 million dollars in plane contracts into an uproar.

FERGUSON heatedly let it be known that he is considering contempt citations against Meyer, Hughes, and Noah Dietrich, vice president of the Hughes firm.

Hughes told Ferguson: "I don't know where Meyer is. My company has been caused enough inconvenience over Mr. Meyer. I brought him back here twice for you."

Ferguson demanded: "What's he doing today that is more important than his being here?"

Hughes replied: "He's working for my company and that is more important than his being here."

"You had him here twice. Why didn't you question him then?"

"I don't see why I should accommodate you again just so you can put him beside me on the stand and make a publicity show."

Ferguson thereupon signed the order for Meyer's appearance "forthwith."

THE SENATOR instructed assistant counsel Francis Flanagan to "tell the U. S. Marshal we mean business on this subpoena," Ferguson added:

"I want it on record that Mr. Flanagan spoke to Meyer yesterday and told him he would be wanted here today."

Earlier, the committee was told that Maj. Gen. Oliver Echols, former Army air forces procurement chief, refused to do business with Hughes because he "disliked" the multi-millionaire plane builder.

Noah Dietrich, vice president of Hughes Aircraft Co., testified that he came to Washington to interest Echols in a plywood (Continued on Page Two)

Blackmail Charges Of Hughes To Be Probed By Attorney General

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Sen. Brewster (R) Me., said today Attorney General Clark plans to investigate charges by Howard Hughes that the senator offered to call off the senate inquiry into Hughes' aircraft contracts if the millionaire plane builder would merge his airline with Pan American Airways.

Brewster, who invited a justice department inquiry two weeks ago, said Clark had informed him the charges would receive "attention" as soon as the senate inquiry into Hughes' war plane contracts ends.

The Maine senator is head of the committee probing the 40

million dollars in contracts obtained by Hughes.

BREWSTER repeatedly had denied the charge, but Hughes called the senator's sworn denial a "pack of lies" and declared he could "tear it to pieces" if given cross-examination privileges at the senate hearing.

In announcing Clark's promise to investigate, Brewster told reporters that he was satisfied with the decision to eliminate his personal feud with Hughes from the war contract investigation.

But he added that he does not feel that the decision strips him of the right to go into the matter on a personal basis.

"ECHOLS TOLD me, 'so far as I am concerned, I am not interested. I do not want to do business with Howard Hughes because I dislike him'."

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., interrupted the witness to ask:

"Do you mean to say that in the midst of the war, the head of the Army air forces procurement division refused to do business with Hughes because of personal dislike?"

Dietrich answered, "That is correct."

Echols previously testified that he and other experts opposed the plywood plane. He said he put through an order for 100 of the aircraft only because he was so instructed by his superior, Gen. H. H. Arnold.

ECHOLS ALSO asserted that the order for purchase of the planes was issued on recommendation of Elliott Roosevelt, then an air forces photo officer.

In testifying of Echols' dislike for Hughes, Dietrich said it was based on two incidents.

First, he said, Hughes did not keep a date to stop at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, at a time when he was successfully attempting to set a new air speed record and Echols and his staff were "embarrassed."

Secondly, Dietrich said, Hughes refused to have several of Echols' officers inspect a plane at a time when Hughes thought it was a company "secret". He said Hughes agreed to have one man inspect it but no more.

THE COMMITTEE hearing received evidence that Birdwell exerted efforts to turn attention of the late President Roosevelt to the plane, a proto-type of the F-11 photo-reconnaissance aircraft.

Hughes returned to the witness stand as the inquiry veered sharply away from his raging controversy with Committee Chairman Brewster which was halted by mutual agreement last night.

Sen. Ferguson read to Hughes a letter addressed to Marvin McIntyre, secretary to Mr. Roosevelt and dated July 11, 1942. The letter stated:

"A FEW DAYS ago Jesse Jones discussed with the President work Howard Hughes has been quietly doing to develop a twin-motored plastic bomber that will fly faster than any pursuit plane in the world."

Jones has testified that he submitted a memo on the Hughes plane to President Roosevelt about that time and evidence was introduced to show that the President referred the matter to Gen. H. H. Arnold, air forces commander, with the notation: "What is there in this?"

In 1943, Hughes got a 70 million dollar order for 100 of the F-11's, for which the D-2 was the prototype. The order was later cut to 22 million dollars for three of the planes.

The committee has heard voluminous testimony that the order went through, over air forces experts' objections, after Elliott Roosevelt recommended the planes be bought for photo-reconnaissance work.

Sen. O'Connor (D) Md., asked Hughes whether he knew how Birdwell obtained the information that Jones was contacting the White House. The airman replied that "I don't remember today."

Ferguson produced an expense account of Birdwell's for $1,340 worth of entertainment in Washington June 17 to July 16, 1942. Jones who headed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was listed as one of the people entertained.

that "these oppressive powers are a negation of British freedom."

"THE MAIN cause of fifty per cent of British difficulties are the partisan policies and administrative incompetence of this government."

He continued scathingly: "We have no confidence in its ability. We distrust its sense of fair play."

"Except for bloodshed, all the evils of war are going on in Britain today."

Turning to the government benches, Churchill shouted: "Do you deny that?"

The laborites shouted "yes!" in chorus whereupon Churchill promised: "you will be made to deny it before your countrymen one day."

Churchill also asserted that the "claim that the transitional period from war to peace is over is moonshine and humbug."

HE DECLARED the government's reasons for the bill are "false and a flimsy pretext."

Churchill rose to denounce the bill after Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council, had moved a second reading.

Morrison, one of the leading braintrusts of the labor government, denied the bill was part of a "dark, deep plot to conduct a social revolution by regulations."

He warned that the government refused to be cross examined in advance regarding what it will do with its requested emergency powers.

Churchill's speech was scored, however, as a brilliant personal success for the conservative leader. Parliamentary observers noted that it was shrewdly timed for his re-entry into commons.

IT GAVE every indication of a gloves-off fight between socialism and conservatism.

The conservatives declare that the bill, which won approval by 318 to 170 votes on first reading last night, cannot receive mature consideration by Wednesday. That is the target date for commons' Summer recess.

The solid conservative and liberal opposition shattered the government's hopes of achieving national unity be-

BRT MOVES TO PRESS DEMANDS FOR PAY HOIST

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in an action reversing its previous position, began moving today to press new pay demands on the nation's carriers.

The action to override a previous decision to limit demands on the carriers to 44 working rule changes only was taken at a conference of 110 general chairmen of the BRT in Cleveland.

A. F. Whitney, president of the union, said a committee would be appointed immediately to work out details of the pay plan. Whitney had opposed a wage increase demand this year.

Whitney said the 110 general chairmen were subjected to "terrific pressure" to include pay boost demands in the coming negotiations from the rank and file workers of the brotherhood. At the Miami convention last fall, the BRT adopted a policy in complete reversal of the present move. The BRT and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers won an 18½-cent hourly wage increase in 1946 after a 48-hour national rail strike.

hind its program.

A sharp threat to the program outlined before commons Wednesday by Prime Minister Attlee came from one hundred rebel members of his own labor party.

THE REBELS signed a statement demanding a more comprehensive long-term plan to meet Britain's crisis. Attlee will reply to their attacks at a secret party meeting Monday.

London newspapers said several political experts predicted that the prime minister must either produce a program that satisfies the group or "consider resigning."

that "these oppressive powers are a negation of British freedom."

"THE MAIN cause of fifty per cent of British difficulties are the partisan policies and administrative incompetence of this government."

He continued scathingly: "We have no confidence in its ability. We distrust its sense of fair play."

"Except for bloodshed, all the evils of war are going on in Britain today."

Turning to the government benches, Churchill shouted: "Do you deny that?"

The laborites shouted "yes!" in chorus whereupon Churchill promised: "you will be made to deny it before your countrymen one day."

Churchill also asserted that the "claim that the transitional period from war to peace is over is moonshine and humbug."

HE DECLARED the government's reasons for the bill are "false and a flimsy pretext."

Churchill rose to denounce the bill after Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council, had moved a second reading.

Morrison, one of the leading braintrusts of the labor government, denied the bill was part of a "dark, deep plot to conduct a social revolution by regulations."

He warned that the government refused to be cross examined in advance regarding what it will do with its requested emergency powers.

Churchill's speech was scored, however, as a brilliant personal success for the conservative leader. Parliamentary observers noted that it was shrewdly timed for his re-entry into commons.

IT GAVE every indication of a gloves-off fight between socialism and conservatism.

The conservatives declare that the bill, which won approval by 318 to 170 votes on first reading last night, cannot receive mature consideration by Wednesday. That is the target date for commons' Summer recess.

The solid conservative and liberal opposition shattered the government's hopes of achieving national unity be-

BRT MOVES TO PRESS DEMANDS FOR PAY HOIST

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in an action reversing its previous position, began moving today to press new pay demands on the nation's carriers.

The action to override a previous decision to limit demands on the carriers to 44 working rule changes only was taken at a conference of 110 general chairmen of the BRT in Cleveland.

A. F. Whitney, president of the union, said a committee would be appointed immediately to work out details of the pay plan. Whitney had opposed a wage increase demand this year.

Whitney said the 110 general chairmen were subjected to "terrific pressure" to include pay boost demands in the coming negotiations from the rank and file workers of the brotherhood. At the Miami convention last fall, the BRT adopted a policy in complete reversal of the present move. The BRT and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers won an 18-½-cent hourly wage increase in 1946 after a 48-hour national rail strike.

hind its program. A sharp threat to the program outlined before commons Wednesday by Prime Minister Attlee came from one hundred rebel members of his own labor party.

THE REBELS signed a statement demanding a more comprehensive long-term plan to meet Britain's crisis. Attlee will reply to their attacks at a secret party meeting Monday.

London newspapers said several political experts predict that the prime minister must either produce a program that satisfies the group or "consider resigning."

IVES SEES NO HARM IN LABOR LAW EVASION

More Agreements To Sue Urged By Senator Who Helped Frame Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Sen. Ives (R) N. Y., said today he saw no objection to labor contracts in which employers agree not to use the Taft-Hartley law's authority to sue the union in event of an illegal work stoppage.

The New York Republican who helped frame the nation's new labor code, and who is a member of the congressional labor study committee, said he did not regard the move to bypass the suitability provision of the act as harmful. He said:

"I see no objection to these agreements not to sue in contracts—the more voluntary agreements labor and management make the better it is for everybody."

"WHAT WE ARE trying to do is bring about labor peace."

At the same time, Ives predicted that the ban on political expenditures by labor unions "will have to be clarified" by legislation after study by the joint committee.

He forecast disputes over how far labor organizations can go in their own publications in making political appeals to members.

Ives declared also that it was not the intention of the framers of the law to have financial reports of labor union officers to the labor secretary made public—A point on which Secretary Lewis Schwellenbach has raised a question.

Ives said that the final draft of the law neither required nor prohibited their being made public by the secretary. The original house version specified that they not be made public by the labor department chief.

The question is up to the secretary, Ives said, adding that the law accomplishes its purpose of informing rank-and-file unions about their union finances requiring that the officers also supply the report to them.

OBRIST MURDER PROBES STILL WITHOUT CLUES

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 8 — Portsmouth police remained without a tangible clue today to the mystery slaying of Dr. George Obrist.

Police Chief Ray Brown reported that relatives of the shooting victim were questioned for several hours, but could throw no light on the crime.

Authorities continued to hold the theory that Dr. Obrist was shot to death by a disgruntled patient or relative of a patient. The chief said the family could suggest no one who held enmity against the doctor.

Dr. Obrist was killed by a single .22-calibre bullet as he was entering the back door of his home Friday midnight.

OBRIST MURDER PROBES STILL WITHOUT CLUES

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 8 — Portsmouth police remained without a tangible clue today to the mystery slaying of Dr. George Obrist.

Police Chief Ray Brown reported that relatives of the shooting victim were questioned for several hours, but could throw no light on the crime.

Authorities continued to hold the theory that Dr. Obrist was shot to death by a disgruntled patient or relative of a patient. The chief said the family could suggest no one who held enmity against the doctor.

Dr. Obrist was killed by a single .22-calibre bullet as he was entering the back door of his home Friday midnight.

THE BRITISH SIDE

"A LITTLE knowledge is a dangerous thing; Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring," sang the eighteenth century poet. It applies in high degree to the Palestine situation. The little knowledge hastily gained from headlines and dispatches gives an impression of a cruel British navy lying in wait for refugee ships, grabbing poor souls as they reach the shore, tearing them from the promised land, hauling them off to concentration camps to stay indefinitely.

The British see another side. The White Paper of 1939 allowed 15,000 immigrants a year for five years. The present rate is 1,500 per month or 18,000 a year. At the Palestine Conference in February, 1947, the British suggested a rate of 48,000 per year, but the plan was rejected by both Jews and Arabs. The British Information Service says:

"Uncertified immigrants have continued to arrive in great numbers aboard small and often unseaworthy vessels. Such immigrants are taken on British transports to Cyprus, where they are maintained in camps to await subsequent transfer to Palestine under their specified allotment of the 1,500 monthly quota, which is still being continued pending a settlement. In debate in the House of Lords on April 23, Lord Hall described the methods adopted by those responsible for illegal immigration as criminal: three persons to every gross registered ton of shipping; 1,200 persons on a ship of 400 tons gross weight. Had it not been for the fact that they were towed in by the British Navy, several ships with thousands of these poor deluded people aboard would have been lost."

So these immigrants who have given their last dollars or jewels to sail on those dirty, overcrowded little ships, arriving illegally, are watched over by the British Navy, taken safely to Cyprus and thence transferred to Palestine, 1,500 of them a month, with proper papers and sound legal status. Viewed thus, the Royal Navy is not cruel but decently protective, doing its duty under the mandate.

AN O. HENRY TALE

THERE SEEMS to be romance, most everywhere, although there is sometimes difficulty in locating it. The story of the housemaid in Beverley Hills, Cal., is one example. She who had scrubbed and polished in other people's houses up to her fifty-second year was found after a long search. She discovered she was an heiress awaiting a fortune of $250,000, left for her by a nice gentleman she had just met casually in a movie theater. Their friendship was "quite proper," she said, but it was certainly unusual.

There are doubtless as many romances floating around nowadays as there ever were in the days of the prolific O. Henry.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—A rather important government official has returned from abroad, much discouraged over both the economic and political outlook. His private conversational report to other administration authorities is being received with some awe and it will be a base guide to development of administration policies on defense, relief and perhaps diplomacy.

This official cannot see how Germany can recover with one third of the country literally taken away (Russian's uncooperative zone;) yet recovery is essential for a healthy Europe.

But more important was his conclusion that compromise with the Russians is impossible, and that a long and costly war is inevitable.

No evidence is discernible that these views will result in any critical change in policies which are developing, but the current trends may be strengthened and reinforced by bulwarks. Secretary of State Marshall has abandoned hope of a usual Summer vacation. The difficulties of developing detailed arrangements for his plan will take time. His is not really a plan, but merely an announced purpose in a speech to continue aid to Europe for a few years more, if Europe will help itself, and give us ground for hope that our aid will be worthwhile. Actually the administration is groping toward implementation of the Marshall thought, being unanimously displeased at the prospect of endless continuation of the present loose money-giving.

The Truman cabinet recently spent a long time on an idea of giving goods instead of money hereafter. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson talked considerably about this, following the Columbus speech of Senator Taft containing some vague suggestions along the same line. The idea seems to be that the United States should set up controls of exports, establish a purchasing board, procure the aid goods and then ship it. All seemed to agree more or less about the necessity for a coordinating or purchasing board which would not run prices up here too high.

Indeed, there has been talk, deep within the administration, of establishing a two-price arrangement, one for foreign purchases and a second price for the United States, thus to prevent foreign demand from running the American price too high and supply too low.

Of course, this is merely the latest trend of inner administration talk about implementing the Marshall policy. The Republicans have study committees at work. No one seems in much hurry because current appropriations are more than enough to take care of any natural emergency until January. Marshall is developing some ideas for the conference of American foreign ministers at the gambling casino outside Rio, beginning August 15. The European relief and refugee problems will be thoroughly analyzed there on a hemisphere basis.

Otherwise the United States is going ahead unilaterally to keep the Russian obstructionist tactics in the United Nations from blocking all world progress. The Russians have shown they will filibuster and delay anything important, so we are moving on every issue (not only Greece and Turkey but also now Indonesia) to establish an American policy. For instance, we offered our services immediately for mediation in the Indonesian affair. Russia can

A Germ-Fighting Wonder Drug

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

STREPTOMYCIN is the newest addition to the modern family of germ-fighting wonder drugs. There is still much to be learned about this new weapon against disease, but it has now been in use long enough for us to know that it is going to be of real value in many conditions.

The best thing about it is that it will attack germs which successfully resist both penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs. According to Dr. Sam L. Raines of Memphis, Tennessee, it is particularly effective against germs that cause infections of the urinary tract.

Patients Were Treated

Dr. Raines treated 52 patients with such urinary tract infections, produced by several germs, but particularly by a certain type of streptococcus. When the patients were given three million units of streptomycin daily for three days, in practically all cases, the germs disappeared from the urinary tract. However, after about two weeks, many of the germs were again found, which indicates that reinfection of the urinary tract occurred.

A number of spectacular results were obtained with the streptomycin blood stream infections or "blood poisoning" caused by such germs as Friedlander's bacillus and bacillus proteus.

Dr. Raines also studied a small number of cases of tuberculosis, but he found that these patients did not respond to the streptomycin, although others have found that it is helpful in certain cases.

Sufficient Dose

When streptomycin is used, it is important that a sufficient dose be employed and that it be given continually until the germs producing the infection are eliminated. Otherwise the germs may become streptomycin fast, that is, they become more resistant to the preparation, and then cure becomes extremely difficult.

Another use of streptomycin is as a preventive against infection when the bladder is examined through a cystoscope.

In cases of stone in the kidney, ureter or bladder, where infection has been present long enough to make surgery dangerous, the giving of streptomycin may cause enough improvement that the operation can be performed with safety.

Thus, streptomycin has been found to be a valuable preparation in urinary tract infections which are not overcome by penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs.

M. W.: How long does it take for the swelling to leave after a cast has been removed?

Answer: Swelling should disappear within a week or two; however, it may persist because of some disturbance of the circulation.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

VERONICA CRAY smiled almost timidly at Poirot before continuing.

"Can you believe that a—a feeling like that is possible?" she asked.

"I think it is possible, yes," said Poirot.

"Never to forget—to go on waiting—planning—hoping—to determine with all one's heart and mind to get what one wants in the end. . . . There are men like that, M. Poirot."

"Yes—and women."

She gave him a hard stare.

"I'm talking about men—about John Christow. Well, that's how it was. I protested at first, laughed, refused to take him seriously. Then I told him he was mad. . . . It was quite late when he went back to the house. We'd argued and argued. . . . He was still—just as determined."

She swallowed again.

"That's why I sent him a note the next morning. I couldn't leave things like that. I had to make him realize that what he wanted was—impossible."

"It was impossible?"

"Of course it was impossible! He came over. He wouldn't listen to what I had to say. He was just as insistent. I told him that it was no good, that I didn't love him, that I hated him. . . . He paused, breathing hard. 'I had to be brutal about it. So we parted in anger. . . . And now—he's dead.' He saw her hands creep together, saw the twisted fingers and the knuckles stand out. They were large, rather cruel hands."

The strong emotion that she was feeling communicated itself to him. It was not sorrow, not grief—no, it was anger. The anger, he thought, of a baffled egoist.

"Well, M. Poirot?" Her voice was controlled and smooth again. "What am I to do? Tell the story, or keep it to myself. It's what happened—but it takes a bit of believing."

Poirot looked at her, a long considering gaze.

He did not think that Veronica Cray was telling the truth, and yet there was an undeniable undertone of sincerity. It happened, he thought, but it did not happen like that.

And suddenly he got it. It was a true story, inverted. It was she who had been unable to forget John Christow. It was she who had been baffled and repulsed. And now, unable to bear in silence the furious anger of a tigress deprived of what she considered her legitimate prey, she had invented a version of the truth that should satisfy her wounded pride and feed a little the aching hunger for a man who had gone beyond the reach of her clutching hands.

Impossible to admit that she, Veronica Cray, could not have what she wanted! So she had changed it around.

Poirot drew a deep breath and spoke:

"If all this had any bearing on John Christow's death, you would have to speak out. But if it has not—and I cannot see why it should have—then I think you are quite justified in keeping it to yourself."

He wondered if she was disappointed. He had a fancy that in her present mood, she would like to hurl her story into the printed page of a newspaper. She had come to him—why? To try out her story? To test his reaction? Or to use him—to induce him to pass the story on.

If his mild response disappointed her, she did not show it. She got up and gave him one of those long, well-manicured hands.

"Thank you, M. Poirot. What you say seems eminently sensible. I'm so glad I came to you. I—I felt I wanted somebody to know."

"I shall respect your confidence, Madame."

When she had gone, he opened the windows a little. Scents affected him. He did not like Veronica's scent. It was expensive but cloying, overpowering like her personality.

He wondered, as he flapped the curtains, whether Veronica Cray had killed John Christow.

She would have been willing to kill him—he believed that. She would have enjoyed pressing the trigger—would have enjoyed seeing him stagger and fall.

But behind that vindictive anger was something cold and shrewd, something that appraised chances, a cool, calculating intelligence. However much Veronica Cray wished to kill John Christow, he doubted whether she would have taken the risk.

The inquest was over. It had been the merest formality of an affair, and though warned of this beforehand, yet nearly everyone had a resentful sense of anticlimax.

Adjourned for a fortnight at the request of the police.

Gerda had driven down with Mrs. Patterson from London in a hired Daimler. She had on a black dress and an unbecoming hat and looked nervous and bewildered.

Preparatory to stepping back into the Daimler, she paused as Lady Angkatell came up to her.

"How are you, Gerda dear? Not sleeping too badly, I hope. I think it went off as well as we could hope for, don't you? So sorry we haven't got you with us at The Hollow, but I quite understand how distressing that would be."

Mrs. Patterson said in her bright voice, glancing reproachfully at her sister for not introducing her properly:

"This was Miss Collier's idea—to drive straight down and back. Expensive, of course, but we thought it was worth it."

"Oh, I do so agree with you," Mrs. Patterson lowered her voice.

"I am taking Gerda and the children straight down to Bexhill. What she needs is rest and quiet. The reporters! You've no idea! Simply swarming around Harley Street."

A young man snapped off a camera, and Elsie Patterson pushed her sister into the car and they drove off.

The others had a momentary view of Gerda's face beneath the unbecoming hat. It was vacant, lost—she looked for the moment like a half-witted child.

Midge Hardcastle muttered under her breath, "Poor devil."

Edward said irritably: "What did everybody see in Christow? That wretched woman looks completely heartbroken."

"She was absolutely wrapped up in him," said Midge.

"But why? He was a selfish sort of fellow, good company in a way—but—"

"—but—"

"He broke off. Then he asked, 'What did you think of him, Midge?'"

"I?" Midge reflected. She said at last, rather surprised at her own words, "I think I respected him."

"Respected him? For what?" "Well, he knew his job."

"You're thinking of him as a doctor?"

"Yes."

There was no time for more. Henrietta was driving Midge back to London in her car. Edward was returning to lunch at The Hollow and going up by the afternoon train with David. He said vaguely to Midge, "You must come out and lunch one day." And Midge said that would be very nice, but that she couldn't take more than an hour off. Edward gave her his charming smile and said:

"I shall respect your confidence, Madame."

When she had gone, he opened the windows a little. Scents affected him. He did not like Veronica's scent. It was expensive but cloying, overpowering like her personality.

He wondered, as he flapped the curtains, whether Veronica Cray had killed John Christow.

A young man snapped off a camera, and Elsie Patterson pushed her sister into the car and they drove off.

"Oh, it's a special occasion. I'm sure they'll understand."

Then he moved toward Henrietta. "I'll ring you up, Henrietta."

"Yes, do, Edward. But I may be out a good deal."

"Out?"

She gave him a quick mocking smile.

"Drowning my sorrow. You don't expect me to sit at home and mope, do you?"

He said slowly, "I don't understand you nowadays, Henrietta. You are quite different."

Her face softened. She said unexpectedly, "Darling Edward," and gave him a quick squeeze.

Then she turned to Lucy Angkatell. "I can come back if I want to, can't I, Lucy?"

Lady Angkatell said, "Of course, darling. And anyway, there will be the inquest again in a fortnight."

Henrietta went to where she had parked the car in the market square. Her suitcases and Midge's were already inside.

They got in and drove off. The car climbed the long hill and came out on the road over the ridge. Below them the brown and golden leaves shimmered a little in the chill of a gray autumn day.

Midge said suddenly, "I'm glad to get away—even from Lucy. Darling as she is, she gives me the creeps sometimes."

Henrietta was looking intently into the small driving mirror.

She said rather inattentively: "Lucy has to give the coloratura touch—even to murder."

"You know, I'd never thought about murder before."

"Why should you? It isn't a thing one thinks about. It's a six-letter word in a crossword, or a pleasant entertainment between the covers of a book. But the real thing—"

She paused. Midge finished: "IS real! That is what startles one."

Henrietta said: "It needn't be startling to you. You are outside it. Perhaps the only one who is."

Midge said: "We're all outside it now. We've got away."

Henrietta murmured, "Have we?"

She was looking in the driving mirror again. Suddenly she put her foot down on the accelerator. The car responded. She glanced at the speedometer. They were doing over fifty. Presently the needle reached sixty.

Midge looked sideways at Henrietta's profile. It was not like Henrietta to drive recklessly. She liked speed, but the winding road hardly justified the pace they were going. There was a grim smile hovering around Henrietta's mouth.

She said, "Look over your shoulder, Midge. See that car way back there?"

"It's a Ventnor 10."

"Is it? It's not particularly interesting."

"They're useful little cars, low gas consumption, keep the road well, but they're not fast."

"No?"

Curious, thought Midge, how fascinated Henrietta always was by cars and their performance.

"As I said, they're not fast—but that car, Midge, has managed to keep its distance, although we've been going over sixty."

Midge turned a startled face to her.

"Do you mean that?"

Henrietta nodded. "The police, I believe, have special engines in very ordinary looking cars."

Midge said: "You mean they're still keeping an eye on us all?"

"It seems rather obvious," Midge shivered.

Original Program In EUB Community House

Picnic Supper Held For WS of WS Members

Members of Women's Society of World Service of the First Evangelical United Brethren church gathered Thursday evening in the Community house for their annual August picnic supper.

Thirty-one members and guests were seated at one long table for the half after six o'clock supper. Summer garden flowers adorned the center of the table making an attractive floral decoration.

Mrs. James Trimmer Sr., program leader of the evening used the topic "Rebuilding the Church in Europe", for the outstanding program. In addition to the leading topic Mrs. Trimmer presented in an unique manner a review of the past seven months' topics.

She presented each leader from the seven months who gave brief resumes of their month's meetings. Each topic was presented in the form of a block in a quilt with each block bound together with a prayer offered by various members.

Scripture lesson for the evening was given by Mrs. Trimmer. Mrs. J. E. Milliron offered prayer.

Two vocal solos were given by two children whose mothers are members of the society. Marsha Morgan sang "For the Beauty of the Earth", and Elliott Hawkes sang, "Fair Lord Jesus". Group joined to sing "A Charge to Keep I Have". Patty Nau in a piano solo presented "In the Garden of the Gods".

Miss Gladys Noggle gave an interesting historical sketch of the former Evangelical United Brethren church in Europe at the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, president, was in charge of a business session, when routine business of the organization was dispensed with. Mrs. Hillis Hall, secretary of the missionary education department, gave a detailed outline required in her division.

Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Eleanor Morgan and Mrs. Clarence Radcliff served on a committee for the annual social affair and Miss Noggle headed the transportation committee.

MAGIC SEWING CLUB GATHERS AT GRUBB HOME

All members of the Magic Sewing club were present for the meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John Grubb, South Pickaway street. For the occasion the hostess' home was decorated with vases of gladioli and other flowers of the season.

Games of euchre was the diversion of the evening. At the conclusion of several rounds, high scores were held by Mrs. Wendell Turner and Mrs. Russell Skaggs.

Crystal baskets holding garden flowers centered two small tables where the eight guests were served a dessert course. Members of the club presented Mrs. Skaggs a gift in observation of her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Grubb gave the honored guest a birthday cake which she cut and served.

Mrs. Skaggs will be hostess for the next meeting on August 21 in her home on East Union street.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Rennet Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Original Program In EUB Community House

Picnic Supper Held For WS of WS Members

Members of Women's Society of World Service of the First Evangelical United Brethren church gathered Thursday evening in the Community house for their annual August picnic supper.

Thirty-one members and guests were seated at one long table for the half after six o'clock supper. Summer garden flowers adorned the center of the table making an attractive floral decoration.

Mrs. James Trimmer Sr., program leader of the evening used the topic "Rebuilding the Church in Europe", for the outstanding program. In addition to the leading topic Mrs. Trimmer presented in an unique manner a review of the past seven months' topics.

She presented each leader from the seven months who gave brief resumes of their month's meetings. Each topic was presented in the form of a block in a quilt with each block bound together with a prayer offered by various members.

Scripture lesson for the evening was given by Mrs. Trimmer. Mrs. J. E. Millions offered prayer.

Two vocal solos were given by two children whose mothers are members of the society. Marsha Morgan sang "For the Beauty of the Earth", and Elliott Hawkes sang, "Fairer Lord Jesus". Group joined to sing "A Charge to Keep I Have". Patty Nau in a piano solo presented "In the Garden of the Gods".

Miss Gladys Noggle gave an interesting historical sketch of the former Evangelical United Brethren church in Europe at the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, president, was in charge of a business session, when routine business of the organization was dispensed with. Mrs. Hillis Hall, secretary of the missionary education department, gave a detailed outline required in her division.

Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Eleanor Morgan and Mrs. Clarence Radcliff served on a committee for the annual social affair and Miss Noggle headed the transportation committee.

MAGIC SEWING CLUB GATHERS AT GRUBB HOME

All members of the Magic Sewing club were present for the meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John Grubb, South Pickaway street. For the occasion the hostess' home was decorated with vases of gladioli and other flowers of the season.

Games of euchre was the diversion of the evening. At the conclusion of several rounds, high scores were held by Mrs. Wendell Turner and Mrs. Russell Skaggs.

Crystal baskets holding garden flowers centered two small tables where the eight guests were served a dessert course. Members of the club presented Mrs. Skaggs a gift in observation of her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Grubb gave the honored guest a birthday cake which she cut and served.

Mrs. Skaggs will be hostess for the next meeting on August 21 in her home on East Union street.

CARDS TAKE REDS 9-2 IN 7TH STRAIGHT WIN

Battered Dodgers Start 21 Home Games Hopeful Of Gaining Safe Lead

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 — Brooklyn's battered Dodgers, fast being overhauled by the St. Louis Cardinals in the dizzy National League race, tonight gratefully began the first of 27 games left at Ebbets Field, where they have won 36 games out of 51 this season.

The weary Brooks, to the tune of "home sweet home," predict hopefully that they will be able to build up a safe lead again during their long home stay.

Another set of statistics may not make as pleasant reading for the Flatbush crew, however. Although the Dodgers have won 15 of their last 22 starts for a .682 percentage, they actually have lost half a game to St. Louis during that span.

The Cards, who have won 22 of their last 31 for a .710 percentage, racked up their seventh straight win yesterday when they laced out 16 hits in drubbing Cincinnati, 9 to 2, and pulled up to within only four games of the Dodgers.

THE CHAMPS aren't taking any chances. They had a 9-to-0 lead going into the ninth, but lifted Jim Hearn pronto when the Reds started to get ram-bunctious.

The Dodgers, behind "stopper" Harry Taylor, played good ball against the Boston Braves but lost, 3 to 1, for their sixth setback in seven starts, due to the pitching, batting, and risky base-running of one man.

The veteran Red Barrett, after hitting a double in the sixth, broke daringly for third when Tommy Holmes sent a soft chopper toward shortstop. Barrett, going into third standing up, raised his arms and was struck by Pee Wee Reese's throw, thus breaking up the game.

The Dodgers squawked interference, but the ump (and Barrett) just laughed at them.

New York's Giants got only four hits but capitalized on the ineptness of the futile Phillies to win, 5 to 2.

Kirby Higbe, Pittsburgh, held the Chicago Cubs to seven scattered hits and blanked them, 3 to 0. Ralph Kiner, strong boy of the Bucs, hit his 27th homer.

Denny Galehouse of the Boston Red Sox romped to a 12-to-2 win over Washington, in the American League. The Sox collected 15 hits, including the 25th homer of the season for Ted Williams.

In the only other game played, Chicago's White Sox beat the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 4. The veteran Red Ruffing gained credit for the win.

SOFT BALL GAMES

B. & T. Cromers, 740 A. C. Columbus, will meet Esmeralda in a softball game, 7:30 Saturday evening, Ted Lewis Park.

At 8:30 Lockbourne Army Air Base and Esmeralda will angle. Mumaw's-Container game in the Night Softball League was again rained out Thursday night. Game will be played when field permits.

BLUES WIN TWIN VICTORY OVER LOUISVILLE

Apostles Stop Five Run Outburst By Columbus In Ninth To Win 10-9

The Louisville Colonels were seeing plenty of blue today in the American Association and were nursing a terrific head to boot.

The only trouble was that it appeared no amount of aspirin would do them any good—the league-leading Kansas City nine was in town for another game.

The Blues practically dashed the defending champions' hopes of repeating in the minor loop this year with a twin victory last night over the Boston Red Sox farmhands. Southpaw Bill Wight shutout the Colonels in the first contest with four hits, 8 to 0. All the Louisville team could get in the nightcap was two hits, but two Kansas City errors helped avert a second whitewash as the Blues won, 12 to 2.

The double defeat set the Colonels back to seven games off the pace and it looked as if they were emulating their parent Boston Red Sox, as the Yankee farmhands turned on the heat in the stretch drive for the pennant.

Meanwhile, the Apostles, fearful of dropping back into last place, skimmed through against Columbus, 10 to 9, after halting a ninth-inning Red Bird outburst at five runs. St. Paul lost the services of Bob Ramazzotti, its star shortstop and former Brooklyn Dodger, when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the second inning.

The 28-year-old Altoona, Pa., player was reported in "fair" condition today at Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus where attaches said he was believed to have a fractured skull.

the stretch drive for the pennant.

Milwaukee tightened their grip on third place as they downed Indianapolis twice, 4 to 1 and 6 to 3. The brewers narrowed the gap between third and second by virtue of the twin killing. So that they are now only four games behind Louisville.

Toledo, which has been struggling hard to get out of the cellar where they were pushed by St. Paul, dropped a close one to Minneapolis, 7 to 5. The Millers broke a five-all tie in the seventh with a two-run rally to sew up the game.

DIDRIKSON GETS $50,000 OFFER TO TURN PRO

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—Babe

Didrikson's final appearance as an amateur is expected to be made in New York next week. The U. S. and British women's golf champion has a $50,000 offer to turn professional, and a reliable source revealed today that this greatest all-around woman athlete is receptive. The terms of a contract awaiting her are said to be such that she "can't turn it down."

The former olympic star—and performer in virtually all sports—turned professional once before soon after she attained her fame for the first time.

She made a tour with Gene Sarazen on that occasion and participated in other events.

At the moment, she stands as the greatest woman golfer in the world by a margin so wide that the rest of the amateurs play in another league. She has won 16 tournaments in a row, including the U. S. and British titles, and has run herself out of competition.

Women of the English nobility and the so-called landed gentry, are forsaking London and returning to their ancestral homes, all over England.

CARDS TAKE REDS 9-2 IN 7TH STRAIGHT WIN

Battered Dodgers Start 21 Home Games Hopeful Of Gaining Safe Lead

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 — Brooklyn's battered Dodgers, fast being overhauled by the St. Louis Cardinals in the dizzy National League race, tonight gratefully begin the first of 27 games left at Ebbets Field, where they have won 36 games out of 51 this season.

The weary Brooks, to the tune of "home sweet home", predict hopefully that they will be able to build up a safe lead again during their long home stay.

Another set of statistics may not make as pleasant reading for the Flatbush crew, however. Although the Dodgers have won 15 of their last 22 starts for a .682 percentage, they actually have lost half a game to St. Louis during that span.

The Cards, who have won 22 of their last 31 for a .710 percentage, racked up their seventh straight win yesterday when they laced out 16 hits in drubbing Cincinnati, 9 to 2, and pulled up to within only four games of the Dodgers.

THE CHAMPS aren't taking any chances. They had a 9-to-0 lead going into the ninth, but lifted Jim Hearn pronto when the Reds started to get ram-bunctious.

The Dodgers, behind "stopper" Harry Taylor, played good ball against the Boston Braves but lost, 3 to 1, for their sixth setback in seven starts, due to the pitching, batting, and risky base-running of one man.

The veteran Red Barrett, after hitting a double in the sixth, broke daintily for third when Tommy Holmes sent a soft chopper toward shortstop. Barrett, going into third standing up, raised his arms and was struck by Pee Wee Reese's throw, thus breaking up the game.

The Dodgers squawked interference, but theumps (and Barrett) just laughed at them.

New York's Giants got only four hits but capitalized on the ineptness of the futile Phillies to win, 5 to 2.

Kirby Higbe, Pittsburgh, held the Chicago Cubs to seven scattered hits and blanked them, 3 to 0. Ralph Kiner, strong boy of the Bucs, hit his 27th homer.

Denny Galehouse of the Boston Red Sox romped to a 12-to-2 win over Washington, in the American League. The Sox collected 15 hits, including the 25th homer of the season for Ted Williams.

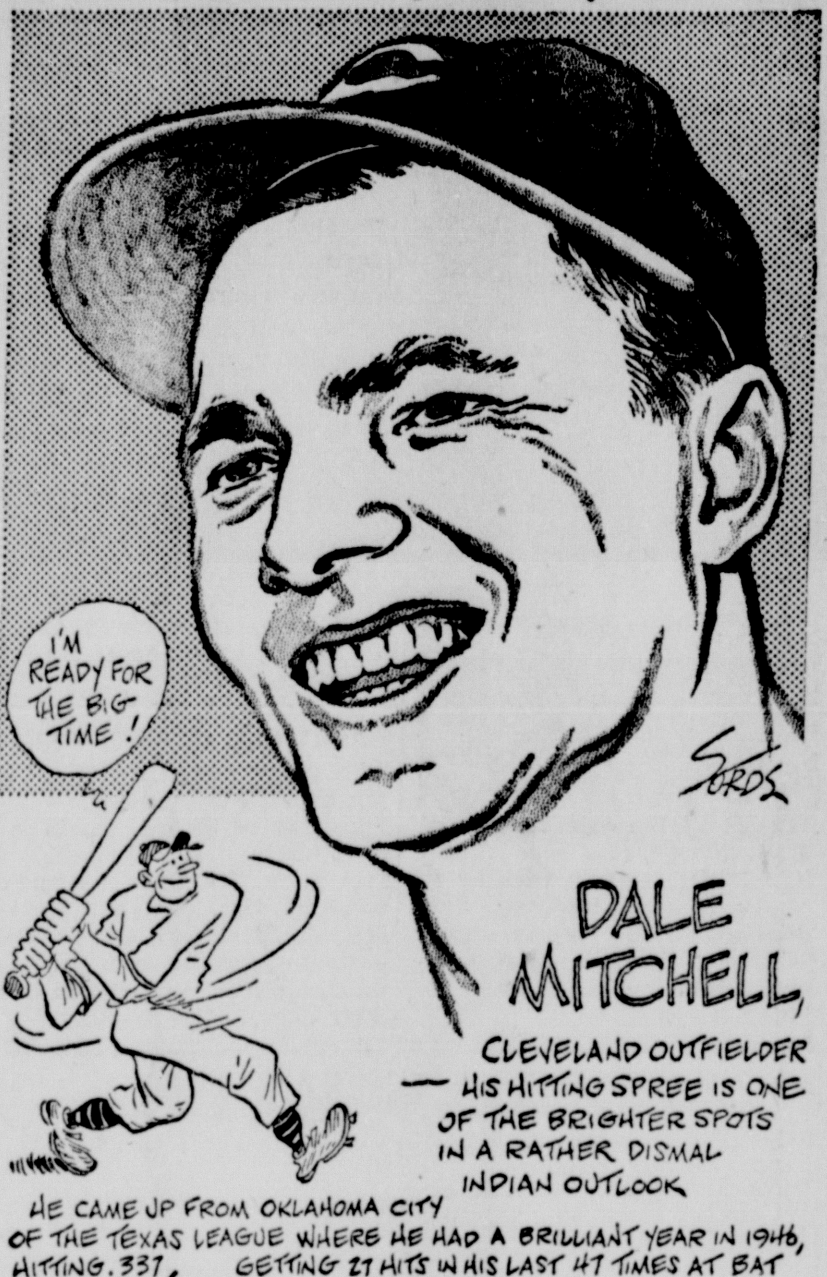

In the only other game played, Chicago's White Sox beat the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 4. The veteran Red Ruffing gained credit for the win.

SOFT BALL GAMES

B. & T. Crothers, 740 A. C. Columbus, will meet Esmeralda in a softball game, 7:30 Saturday evening, Ted Lewis Park.

At 8:30 Lockbourne Army Air Base and Esmeralda will tangle. Mumaw's-Container game in the Night Softball League was again rained out Thursday night. Game will be played when field permits.

'RAIN OR SHINE' RACE ON

CHICAGO, Aug. 8—Washington Park executive director Benjamin F. Lindheimer today spiked rumors that the $100,000 winner-take-all match race between Armed and Assault hinged on track conditions with an announcement that the horses will run on Aug. 30, "rain or shine."

A shoe store proprietor in Jasper, Alabama, told of a woman and her eight children who pay weekly visits to his store, opening picnic lunches on his shoe stools, and leaving without a word being said by anyone.

MOORE CRACKS RECORD FOR SECOND PERRY TITLE

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 8—National rifle champion Wayne Moore, Washington, Pa., today held two extra honors after firing his way to his second successive national marksman's title at Camp Perry yesterday.

Moore cracked the tournament record with a score of 3,194 out of a possible 3,200 and won a spot on the 22-man U. S. International Dewar rifle team which meets English and Canadian teams tomorrow.

Adelaide McCord, Sewickley, Pa., matched Moore's performance as she took her fourth straight women's division championship with a total score of 3,180.

FATHER KIRWIN STRIKES BLOW AT COMMUNISM

Rotarians Told That Now Is Time To Call Bluff Of Soviet Russia

Speaking to members of the local Rotary club at their weekly, noon-day luncheon at the Pick-away Arms restaurant, Thursday, the Rev. Fr. James Kirwin, of Port Arthur, Texas, chose for his subject "Communism."

Before beginning his talk, Fr. Kirwin said that the views he was about to express were his own and not dictated by anyone in authority in the Catholic church.

"TODAY'S STRUGGLE," he said, "is between Democracy, standing for freedom, and Communism, standing for dictatorship. Thinking people today oppose Communism not just because it is anti-religious, but because it is anti-human. Communism takes over not only property but souls."

Fr. Kirwin denied the statement of Winston Churchill that "Russia is a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma" and added, "there is really no riddle nor was ever Russian enigma. The most obvious fact in the world today is that Russia is building herself an empire and that she has fairly well completed the job for the purpose of spreading Communism."

He stated that most of this building was being done while Churchill and the late President Roosevelt were holding their secret meetings with Stalin.

Now, he said, Truman has called a halt and accused Moscow of violation of the spirit and letter of Yalta, because of the elections held in Warsaw in January. If Russia was ready to go to war those would be fighting words. According to Fr. Kirwin Stalin could be stopped now, but if we wait another five years it will be a different story.

In the making of peace, according to Fr. Kirwin, the scattered fragments of civilization cannot be put together without aid from God.

ASKING GOD'S aid does not mean an invitation to the Pope nor any other dignitary in the church. Politicians, he says, cannot understand how anyone can be zealous for God, not church, not the Pope nor even religion, but God alone. All are taught to "Seek first the Kingdom of God and all things shall be added unto you."

"In the early days of our Republic statesmen gave abundant evidence," Fr. Kirwin said, "that they relied on God to guard the State which under Him they had inaugurated."

stop the United Nations from doing anything by veto, but she cannot prevent the United States from doing the same thing, whether it be a Greek border mission study or an offer of mediation in disputes, presented and vetoed in U. N.

You might suspect the Russians would withdraw from U. N. so great is their vetoing and filibustering displeasure with its projects. That would be a normal reaction, but not Russian. Few officials here have given a serious thought to the possibility of Russian withdrawal. They know Russia is in the U. N. to keep it from doing anything and will remain there for that purpose.

Similarly if the Russians want war and intend to bring one on, there is not much we can do except to make as much peace as we can around the world, strengthen our ties and prepare to defend ourselves. Impoverished Russia is in no economic or military position to make war, but Hitler worked one up in a bankrupt nation, and you never can tell what nonconformists will do.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

way Department maintains more than 500 clean and convenient roadside parks dotted along the major routes.

From the white beaches of Lake Erie to the mighty river that bears her name, Ohio offers a full summer of attractions for those who seek fun in the sun.

Thirteen park districts have been set up by cities and counties in addition to the many state and municipal parks. Perhaps the most widely known is the Cleveland Metropolitan Park District, which includes nine reservations along the rivers that surround metropolitan Cleveland.

Every major highway entering Cleveland cuts across these colorful and wooded 12,500 acres of unusual recreational areas. Well-developed, the parks provide 53 miles of driveways along the streams and through the woodlands; 66 miles of bridge paths and 55 miles of foot trails. The rivers widen into five lakes, covering 160 acres. There is swimming at Huntington Reservation on the shore of Lake Erie; in the 97-acre lake at Hinkley Reservation and in the two pools and two concrete pools in other parks of the system.

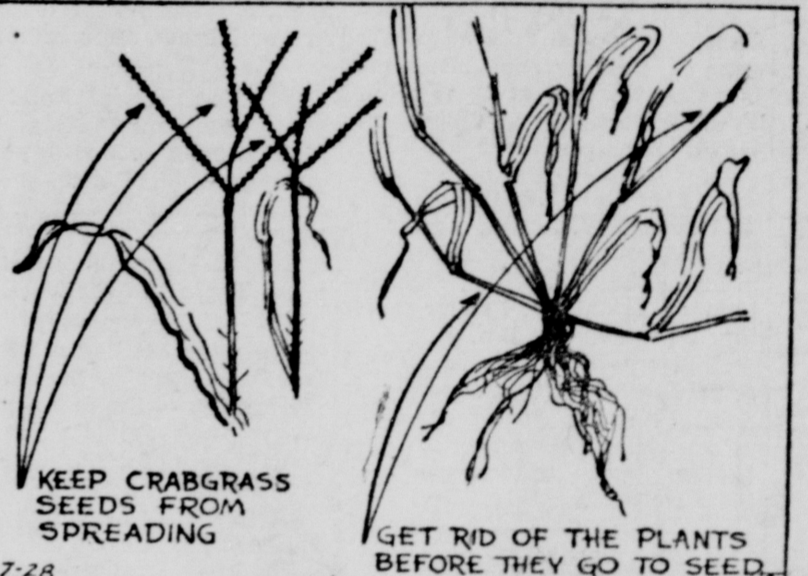

Thirty-five picnic grounds provide 1875 tables and more than 500 fire-places in the park system, which also has 43 baseball fields, two golf courses (public), 44 horseshoe courts and 35 acres of parking space.

Shelter houses, 17 in number, are dotted through the parks with 114 comfort stations. Children's camps number 16, and there are five nature trails and two museums.

Largest of the reservations is that along Rocky River from Detroit Avenue to Strongsville, with a continuous park drive following the valley of the river to Berea.

KEEP CRABGRASS SEEDS FROM SPREADING GET RID OF THE PLANTS BEFORE THEY GO TO SEED.

Crabgrass Control Calls for Campaign

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

CRABGRASS is a pesky annual pest, therefore at this time of the year the important thing is to plan a campaign to keep it from going to seed or at least to gather its seed in an effort to prevent or limit next year's crop.

The seed shoots of crabgrass are illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Although crabgrass is shallow rooted, it will grow several feet high before it goes to seed. When it is cut by the lawn mower it spreads out horizontally, as illustrated. Then it goes to seed. It is important for this reason to use the grass catcher on the mower. Mow in both directions. Rake the creeping stalks erect and then mow again to catch them. In this way one can collect nearly all the seed as well as pieces of joints or nodes from the stalks which, if left on the ground, will take root and produce new plants. Since a single plant may produce 200,000 seeds for next year's crop, the mowing campaign is worth the trouble.

Attention given to the lawn now, when the weather is favorable for grass growth, helps to lessen the crabgrass menace. Lawn grasses continue active growth for several months in the fall after the crabgrass season is ended. Grass also makes several months' growth in the spring before the crabgrass seeds germinate. Thus there is opportunity to encourage the grass to crowd out the weed from places where it might grow.

A complete commercial fertilizer such as 5-10-5 or 4-12-4 may be applied now and again in early April at the rate of 25 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Bare or thin areas may be seeded in September.

One preparation on the market is reputed to kill crabgrass. It burns the lawn brown for two to four weeks, but the good grass comes back later and the crabgrass is killed.

stop the United Nations from doing anything by veto, but she cannot prevent the United States from doing the same thing, whether it be a Greek border mission study or an offer of mediation in disputes, presented and vetoed in U. N.

You might suspect the Russians would withdraw from U. N. so great is their vetoing and filibustering displeasure with its projects. That would be a normal reaction, but not Russian. Few officials here have given a serious thought to the possibility of Russian withdrawal. They know Russia is in the U. N. to keep it from doing anything and will remain there for that purpose.

Similarly if the Russians want war and intend to bring one on, there is not much we can do except to make as much peace as we can around the world, strengthen our ties and prepare to defend ourselves. Impoverished Russia is in no economic or military position to make war, but Hitler worked one up in a bankrupt nation, and you never can tell what nonconformists will do.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO State Parks

way Department maintains more than 500 clean and convenient roadside parks dotted along the major routes.

From the white beaches of Lake Erie to the mighty river that bears her name, Ohio offers a full summer of attractions for those who seek fun in the sun.

Thirteen park districts have been set up by cities and counties in addition to the many state and municipal parks. Perhaps the most widely known is the Cleveland Metropolitan Park District, which includes nine reservations along the rivers that surround metropolitan Cleveland.

Every major highway entering Cleveland cuts across these colorful wooded 12,500 acres of unusual recreational areas. Well-developed, the parks provide 58 miles of driveways along the streams and through the woodlands; 66 miles of bridge paths and 55 miles of foot trails. The rivers widen into five lakes, covering 160 acres. There is swimming at Huntington Reservation on the shore of Lake Erie; in the 97-acre lake at Hinkley Reservation and in the two pools and two concrete pools in other parks of the system.

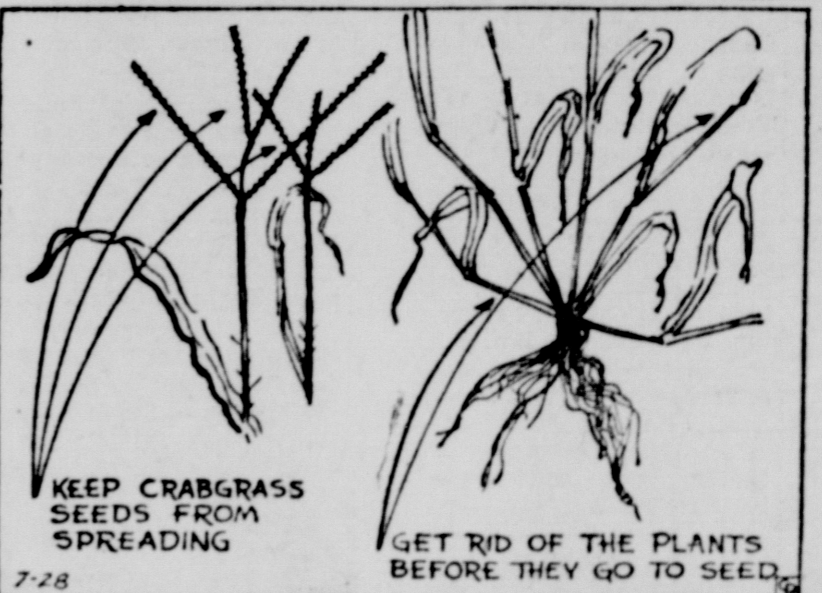

Thirty-five picnic grounds provide 1875 tables and more than 500 fire-places in the park system, which also has 43 baseball fields, two golf courses (public), 44 horseshoe courts and 35 acres of parking space.

Shelter houses, 17 in number, are dotted through the parks with 114 comfort stations. Children's camps number 16, and there are five nature trails and two museums.

Largest of the reservations is that along Rocky River from Detroit Avenue to Strongsville, with a continuous park drive following the valley of the river to Berea.

Canning Plants Need 600 Workers to Open Season Monday

NO DIFFICULTY EXPECTED IN FILLING QUOTA

Ohio Employment Service Sends Out Notices To 500 Men And Women

Recruiting of approximately 600 workers for the corn-packing season which has been tentatively scheduled to get under way Monday in four canneries in Circleville and Pickaway county was in progress Friday.

J. A. Riley, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office in Circleville, mailed letters Friday to more than 500 potential cannery workers asking each man and woman to notify the OSES and to register for employment in the canneries.

THE WINORR Canning company and Emeraldal Canning company operate plants in Circleville, and the Crites Canning company has canneries at New Holland and at Ashville.

No difficulties in finding workers are anticipated for the first packing operations, to be started next week, the employment office manager explained, and he emphasized that the "recruiting" drive is aimed to provide sufficient cannery workers for the "big pack" season scheduled to be launched early in September.

Enclosed with each OSES letter to prospective cannery workers, Mr. Riley said, was a returned postal card which each recipient was asked to fill in and mail to the OSES. The information to be given on the card pertains to availability for work during the packing season, how the worker might be reached during peak-load periods, and names of friends who might be interested in helping to pack the season's yield.

Following the corn packing the items to be packed in the county's canneries include tomatoes, peas, beans, and pumpkin.

Mr. Riley explained that both experienced and non-experienced workers will be recruited this season because, despite the elimination of wartime demands for food, canned goods are still needed in unprecedented quantities.

"THIS IS caused," Mr. Riley said, "by the dire needs overseas for food, plus the fact that Americans are now consuming more varieties of foods due to their increased purchasing power."

Mr. Riley voiced the hope that families in the area will respond in sufficient numbers that last-minute appeals for cannery workers will not be necessary.

Canning Plants Need 600 Workers to Open Season Monday

NO DIFFICULTY EXPECTED IN FILLING QUOTA

Ohio Employment Service Sends Out Notices To 500 Men And Women

Recruiting of approximately 600 workers for the corn-packing season which has been tentatively scheduled to get under way Monday in four canneries in Circleville and Pickaway county was in progress Friday.

J. A. Riley, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office in Circleville, mailed letters Friday to more than 500 potential cannery workers asking each man and woman to notify the OSES and to register for employment in the canneries.

THE WINORR Canning company and Esmeralda Canning company operate plants in Circleville, and the Crites Canning company has canneries at New Holland and at Ashville.

No difficulties in finding workers are anticipated for the first packing operations, to be started next week, the employment office manager explained, and he emphasized that the "recruiting" drive is aimed to provide sufficient cannery workers for the "big pack" season scheduled to be launched early in September.

Enclosed with each OSES letter to prospective cannery workers, Mr. Riley said, was a returned postal card which each recipient was asked to fill in and mail to the OSES. The information to be given on the card pertains to availability for work during the packing season, how the worker might be reached during peak-load periods, and names of friends who might be interested in helping to pack the season's yield.

Following the corn packing the items to be packed in the county's canneries include tomatoes, peas, beans, and pumpkin.

Mr. Riley explained that both experienced and non-experienced workers will be recruited this season because, despite the elimination of wartime demands for food, canned goods are still needed in unprecedented quantities.

"THIS is caused," Mr. Riley said, "by the dire needs overseas for food, plus the fact that Americans are now consuming more varieties of foods due to their increased purchasing power."

Mr. Riley voiced the hope that families in the area will respond in sufficient numbers that last-minute appeals for cannery workers will not be necessary.
